Question 1

You received an email from your friend, Lydia, asking for some information about a project for her school Environmental Club.

Hi,

I've just been appointed as the project leader for my school Environmental Club. Currently, we are collecting some data on managing leftover food at home. After your family meal time, what food is usually not finished? What do you and your family do to the unfinished food? Why is it important to manage the leftover food wisely?

Hope to get some useful insight from your family practice!

Yours sincerely,

Lydia
